AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, AND CONSUMPTION.

The few compositions which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one, but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

NEWS OF THE MORNING.

A Washington special says the Chinese Minister is understood to be dissatisfied with the passport system in the new Chinese bill, and other features interfering with the Chinese crossing the continent in returning home.

The Senate Committee on Foreign Relations resumed consideration of the Chinese question, and discussed various features of the substitute offered for the Vest bill, but without reaching any point of action on any of them.

Stephen Blakey, a Mormon preacher, while walking along the Missouri Railway track Monday afternoon, in St. Louis, reading his prayer book, was run down and horribly mangled by a passenger train. His death was instantaneous. He was walking to Cheltenham, where he would have preached.

Secretary Hunt has received a dispatch from Engineer Melville, dated Yakutsk, January 27, as follows: "I have completed all the necessary arrangements for supplies and outfit for six months, and leave this place for Belun to-day, thence to the Lena delta, to continue the search for my missing comrades."

Queen Victoria once said to Theodore Martin, the biographer of Prince Albert. "I wished for you this morning, for you would have seen something that would have delighted you as a man of letters. The American poet Longfellow has been here. I noticed an unusual interest among the attendants and servants. I could scarcely credit that they so generally understood who he was. When he took his leave they concealed themselves in places from which they got a good look at him as he passed. I have since inquired among them, and am surprised and pleased to find that many of his poems are familiar to them. No other distinguished person has come here that has excited so peculiar an interest. Such poets wear a crown that is imperishable."

The Post says General James Coey is not a candidate for reappointment as Postmaster for San Francisco, and Joseph T. Goodman will receive the office upon expiration of the present term. Mr. Goodman was for many years the publisher of the Virginia Enterprise.

It is estimated that McGarrahan will realize $50,000,000 from the land which a majority of the Committee on Public Lands report that he is entitled to; Pacheco, it is a strong minority report, points out the illegality of the claim.

The Republicans lack one of a majority in the present Congress—one over Greenbackers, Independents and Democrats. It is estimated that the Republicans will elect to the next House a majority of five or ten.

It is a fact not generally known, that by an Act of the New South Wales Parliament, approved by the Queen on December 6th, 1881, the immigration of Chinese is virtually prohibited in that country.

Professor George H. Palmer, of Harvard College, has been tendered, and it is understood will accept, the chair of Philosophy in the University of California.

Spring Wraps

[S. F. Bulletin]

The dolman style of wrap, with various modifications, is seen in the new Spring importations. The handsome broadcords are used in making these wraps. In fact, wraps are made to correspond with the fabric of the costume. They have the advantage, where they are black, of suiting any color in dress. These wraps are trimmed with Spanish lace and ribbon bows, drooping rows of wide lace finishing the edge and a standing row of narrow lace heading the same. Sometimes a cape collar is outlined with rows of plaited lace, which makes a graceful finish for the neck.

These wraps are made of the fabrics of Spring costumes in any solid shade. Dark green and plum colors are especially rich for visiting costumes. A new shade of brown is much sought for, as it is becoming to both blonde and brunette complexions.

Black faille wraps are well suited to half-mourning costumes. The general tendency of street garments is short. They leave the dress in full disclosure. This is a sensible idea for Summer wear.

The Atlanta Constitution says that there are probably 5,000 women in that city who earn their living in part or wholly, by their own labor, against, perhaps, only 500 ten years ago. It is so all over the South, to some degree. All classes are seeking to adapt themselves to the new order of things, and results are pleasantly manifest.

THE POLITICAL OUTLOOK.

The following article taken from the Sacramento Record-Union, is an applicable to Nevada as it is to California, and we trust it will be read by every Republican in the State:

The veto of the Chinese bill has naturally, but none the less unduly, depressed the Republicans of California, and not a few of them go about declaring their conviction that the President's action has given the State and the coast to the Democrats. This is nonsense, and we propose to demonstrate that fact. The first idea that suggests itself to the minds of those who are disappointed and disgusted at the veto is that the Administration ought to be rebuked by casting the vote of the State for the Democrats. We do not say that the desire for an expression of the just indignation which prevails is not perfectly natural and under the circumstances warrantable. But we do say that there is no difference of sentiment between the two parties in California on the Chinese question, and that therefore to punish California Republicans for the course of Eastern Republicans would be sacrificing the innocent instead of the guilty. If this course could effect any change in the national situation, however, we are even willing to admit that it might be worth while to adopt it, notwithstanding the fact that it would involve the repudiation of those who have labored most assiduously for the passage of the Chinese bill. But we assert that nothing can be gained by such a course, and that, on the other hand, it is one which is calculated to render the position of this coast still worse than at present.

We affirm that the issue of greatest moment here is the Chinese question. To secure the legislation we need on that issue is the foremost consideration, therefore and the first thing to be determined is, which of the two national parties can best help us. The Democrats in Congress have certainly shown more friendship to California so far than the Republicans. But the vital consideration is, whether the Democratic party can carry the country on an issue which, in the opinion of every Eastern Republican, would put it once more in line with its old record, as the advocate of race proscription. And we do not hesitate to assert that it cannot succeed on such a programme, for the moment it came forward as the special champion of Chinese exclusion the whole Republican sentiment of the North would accuse it of the ulterior design of attacking the negro under cover of the Chinese. The mere suggestion of such a purpose would rekindle the old Republican fires all over the country. It would be impossible for the Democrats to make converts anywhere beyond the Pacific slope. They would find their new issue a millstone about their necks; and the contest would result in their final defeat, leaving California tied to the tail of a beaten party, and saddled with the opposition of a policy which would be regarded as only a new form of the Southern question.

The National Republican party would thus be put beyond our influence. All the sentimentalism which we have had to contend against in the past would be intensified. We should obtain neither sympathy nor aid from Congress. And all we should have gained would be the credit of having degenerated in our political faith. It is through the Republican party alone that we can obtain relief in this Chinese question. That is the only party which can take up the Chinese question without being suspected of favoring race proscription. That is the only party which can carry the country on this issue. Those who believe that the Chinese question is the dominant issue for the Pacific coast cannot support the Democracy without stultifying themselves, for it is perfectly clear that the Democracy cannot reward its supporters by securing for them the legislation they require. For these reasons it is nonsense to assert that the veto has lost the State or the Coast to the Republicans. Nothing is lost so long as the party is true to itself. Instead of abandoning the fight, it is their duty to make it with greater spirit and energy than ever. Instead of talking about the nominations going abegging, it is the duty of the best men of the party to come forward and offer themselves as candidates.

The Republicans of California have nothing to reproach themselves with, and however their Eastern friends have been led astray, it is an incontrovertible fact that the Republican sentiment of the North and West is the predominant sentiment of the Union, and that it is only by educating that sentiment we can hope to win. The Democrats cannot help us. It is willing to do all it can. It will take all the offices that may be offered it. It will profess any principles the peoples may profess. But it does not possess the confidence of the majority of the voters of the whole country, and it is the last party in the world to be able to make a special issue of the Chinese question. In a word, nothing is to be gained by making California Democratic, and everything is to be gained by making her Republican. To give the State over to the Democrats would be to renounce all hope of the passage of any anti-Chinese legislation, and that being the fact, it is impossible to see where the attempted rebuke would fall. We have indeed heard of people cutting off their noses to spite their faces, but this would be a practical illustration of that eccentric mode of redress. The true course of the Republicans is to organize at once, and "push things." They should create clubs in every precinct and district and township throughout the State. They should seek out the strongest men for nominations. They should realize the fact that the outcome of the campaign depends mainly upon themselves. Enough has been said, and too much, in the despondent vein. Difficulties were made to be overcome, not to be retreated from. The President's veto has been discouraging, no doubt, but another bill may be passed before the end of the session, and in the meantime it is necessary to buckle to work and show the enemy that he must win his laurels before he wears them.

In order to build up railroad enterprises in Texas, the Legislature has passed a law exempting them from taxation for a period of twenty years.

EVIDENCE THAT MIGHT HAVE CLEARED ALF CHARTZ.

[From the Ward Reflex.]

An affidavit has been made by Frankie S. Bassett, before Louis A. Hauck, Notary Public, of this place, which will be forwarded to the Board of Pardons setting forth the fact that she was present at the time Ed. Rickard was shot by Alf Chartz; that when Rickard fell, he fell with a pistol in his right hand; that it was taken out of his hand by a "bootblack" and placed behind the counter in the office of Hall's Lodging House; that she not only saw the pistol placed there but saw it there a short time after. What became of it she don't pretend to know. Not wishing to be called from work as a witness in the case when the trial came on, she kept her own counsel and said nothing at the time. Had this evidence been brought out on the trial Chartz would certainly have been acquitted. When his case before the Board of Pardons the last time the matter was discussed in Ward, and the witness volunteered the information that she was present at the time of the shooting and signified her willingness to make affidavit to what she saw, which has finally been done. Now let justice be done. Aside from the fact that the pistol was spirited away, Chartz is anything but a fair and impartial trial, we don't think so, and there are but few in this vicinity who think so. It is a notorious fact that Rickard was armed all the time. Then how did it happen that he put his pistol away after picking a quarrel? If our memory serves us right the foreman of the jury has since expressed himself to the effect that Chartz would not have been convicted had it been known that Rickard fell with a pistol in hand. We have no more interest in Mr. Chartz's welfare than in that of any other man we don't know, but have simply been impelled by a sense of justice in bringing his case forward again.

Capitalists to the Front

[Bristol Times]

Now that Spring has arrived and the weather is moderating, no time should be lost by our different companies in developing their mining properties in this district. Things are certainly looking bright and the mines are promising great things, sufficient indeed to warrant their being worked on an extensive and systematic scale. With such a showing of ore, certain outside camps that we know of, would boom and there is no visible reason why Bristol should not do the same. We have fine mines on both sides of the range proving conclusively that the deposits are not confined to one spot. The ore is found here in large bodies, and when encountered is generally of high grade. As we have reached no great depth in any mine in the district, the chances are that with sinking a 1,000 feet or over that an enormous deposit will be found underlying the entire group of mines. The Bristol Range is located for a long distance the ore cropping from the surface in many places. There is no doubt but that we have a bright future before us and that things will change for the better before long.

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, AND CONSUMPTION.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one, but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed, the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.
